

The pivot: scored offline, traced online online, traced

live input	nobody wrote down the expected answer a real run	nested model calls, tool calls, retries spans, tokens, cost	read after the fact, not graded against a key Observability answers a different question: what actually happened on this one run, and what did it cost.

Once traffic is live, there is no answer key left to score against.