

Define done, verifiably

the eval discipline

|                       |                                           |
|-----------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| outcome checks        | did the end state change correctly        |
| trajectory checks     | did the actions fire in the right order   |
| repeated trials       | does it work more than once               |
| regression thresholds | pass rate held above a bar, run after run |

Success is a property of the world, not the transcript.

Define done before you build it, or you cannot tell a fix from a chirp.
