

Gluing model calls by hand

three requirements, zero plumbing (so far)

Beanline Coffee wants a barista bot.

1. greet customers with today's menu
2. quote a price when asked
3. remember the previous turn

No framework. Just a model endpoint and python.

The shop: a real menu, a model that answers, and us writing glue.